Allowable Subject Matter

As a means of addressing the rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, Applicant has amended method claim 22 to stipulate that a specified fraction of all endgroups have only a single hydrolyzable group. The rejection over Majolo et al. is also obviated with this amendment because that reference contemplated only a polymer featuring endgroups of the type exhibited in formula (2). There is no suggestion of preparing a polymer that (i) contained endgroups of the type exhibited in formula (2) and (ii) contained endgroups with only a single hydrolyzable group. (It is noted that the Examiner believes these limitations to be mutually exclusive. That is to say, the endgroups are not required to possess methylene bridges and a single hydrolyzable group at the same time. Of course, both limitations may, however, be satisfied by the same endgroup.)

Applicant overcomes Schindler by furnishing a certified translation of the priority document. In the Examiner's estimation, this is the only reasonable justification for withdrawal of the rejections over Schindler as the Examiner does not agree with Applicant's remarks concerning alleged deficiencies in that disclosure. Moreover, the Examiner believes that Applicant has wholly mischaracterized their own claimed method in trying to distinguish it from the teachings of that reference. Their method does not entail reacting an isocyanato group-functionalized silane with a silane bearing groups that are reactive with an isocyanate group. Rather, an isocyanato group-functionalized silane is reacted with a prepolymer bearing hydroxyl-, amino-, or mercaptan terminal groups.

The references cited during this prosecution represent the most germane known to the Examiner. Insofar as they fail to even render obvious the claimed invention, claims 7-25 are deemed allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Marc S. Zimmer whose telephone number is 571-272-1096. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday 8:00-4:30.
